(57) Continuous Co-Culture Fermentation Process with In-Situ Membrane Extraction for Production of Fermented Oils from Lignocellulosic Biomass This invention relates to the field of biotechnology, particularly the microbial production of plant oil alternatives using industrial oleaginous yeast fermentation. It specifically focuses on using regionally available agricultural waste as feedstock to produce palm oil-equivalent lipids. The process integrates co-culture fermentation, continuous operation, in-situ membrane extraction, and enzymatic upgrading. Palm oil production is associated with deforestation and environmental degradation. Synthetic biology and fermentation offer sustainable alternatives through microbial processes. Conventional processes rely on batch fermentation with oleaginous yeasts using refined sugars, followed by solvent-intensive extraction. These methods are expensive and environmentally unsustainable. There remains a need for sustainable microbial oil production systems, especially in Sub-Saharan Africa. This invention addresses that need.

(74) Agent:

(57) A system and method for enabling registered public passenger transport vehicles to deliver advertiser campaign content to passengers and automatically distribute advertising revenue among stakeholders. Pre-printed NFC stickers, each manufactured with a blank NFC chip programmed to on-site at vehicle onboarding using a proprietary onboarding application incorporating a unique cryptographically-protected URL, are installed in registered vehicles. A printed QR code poster and a USSD channel initiated by dialling a designated short code concatenated with the vehicle identifier provide equivalent access for passengers without NFC capability. Upon interaction via the channel, the platform validates the interaction, delivers advertiser campaign content, and records a revenue event allocating a per-event fee across four stakeholder categories: vehicle owner, crew pool, network operator, and platform operator. A duplicate detection module rejects repeated or excessive-volume interactions uniformly across all channels. Accumulated periodic revenue is automatically distributed via mobile money transfers at a scheduled time without human intervention.

(57) The present invention relates to a bio-based coating for molded fiber packaging materials such as sugarcane bagasse punnets. These packaging materials have weaknesses such as poor water and oil resistance, low strength, and susceptibility to scratching. The coating, a creamy white liquid, comprises carnauba wax, cationic starch, soy lecithin, coconut oil, citric acid, and sorbate salt. Carnauba wax repels water and grease; cationic starch enhances adhesion; soy lecithin emulsifies; coconut oil improves flexibility; citric acid strengthens the coating; and sorbate salt prevents microbial growth. When applied, the coating forms a smooth even layer that blocks moisture and grease and protects against scratches. The coating is water-based, biodegradable, renewable, compostable, and complies with FDA GRAS and EU food contact regulations. R. MUNIR AND CO. ADVOCATES P.O BOX 80436 GPO NAIROBI

(72) Inventors: AMMAR MUHAMMED HAMID

(73) Applicant(s): AMMAR MUHAMMED HAMID, Kenya

(74) Agent:

(57) A dedicated application installed directly on a generic classroom display device, irrespective of operating system or platform, delivers structured curriculum-aligned lesson content stored entirely on the device without internet connectivity. A five- directional hardware input device comprising left, right, up, down, and confirm inputs is the sole and exclusive input mechanism for all navigation and system functions without touchscreen, keyboard, or mouse. A lesson picker interface displays available lessons organised by grade level, subject, difficulty tier, and curriculum sub-strand, navigable exclusively via the five-directional input. Lesson slides are displayed full- screen with a composite curriculum lesson identifier displayed as a persistent on-screen overlay throughout the entirety of delivery in a consistent screen position. The right input advances slides, the left returns, and the down input reveals locally stored diagrams and explainer videos. A sustained confirm input activates pre-stored interactive classroom activities operable without student devices or internet. An over- the-air mechanism downloads content updates when connectivity is available. The system is device-agnostic and curriculum-framework-agnostic

(54) Title: Datura stramonium seed oil bioinsecticide for deltamethrin-resistant Anopheles gambiae mosquito control

(51) Int.Cl.: A 01N 65/38(2009.01)

(57) Abstract:

Processing commercial pesticides is not only expensive but also environmentally detrimental. This innovative approach offers a cost-effective and highly efficient solution against deltamethrin-resistant Anopheles gambiae mosquitoes. The innovation led to the isolation of 52 compounds from Datura stramonium seed isolate F7, using a solvent-to-seed powder ratio of 1:3, without any additional additives. Further processing of the essential oil is necessary, with potential applications as a repellent packaged as hair and body oil. Repellent tests against Anopheles gambiae mosquitoes are required. When tested on deltamethrin-resistant Anopheles gambiae mosquitoes, the essential oil exhibited an LC50 of 0.164g/100ml and an LC90 of 0.6558g/100ml at 60 minutes post-treatment. This oil is recommended for malaria vector control, specifically targeting deltamethrin-resistant Anopheles gambiae strains. This innovation significantly contributes to the fight against malaria, one of the most critical diseases affecting humanity.

(57) Abstract: The invention is a flood proof and urine diverting toilet model with a counterweighted lid that is pushed open by human waste when flushed and the lid automatically closes back to its position. The counter weighted lid is manually locked and unlocked by a foot switch and can also be automatically locked into place using a fast action automatic flood detecting lock, preventing any matter from going in and out of the pit latrine. The counter weighted lid decants the human waste, separates the urine from the solid waste and directs the urine to a different storage chamber through a urine diverting mechanism.

(57) Abstract: A system and method for facilitating proximity-based financial transactions between mobile computing devices using Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE) device discovery and identity resolution are disclosed. A payer device performs a BLE scan to detect advertisement signals transmitted by one or more nearby devices. Device-associated identifiers extracted from the detected signals are transmitted to a transaction server, which resolves the identifiers to corresponding registered user accounts stored in a database. Resolved user information is returned to the payer device and presented for recipient selection. Upon receipt of transaction details and successful authentication, the transaction server executes a transfer of funds between accounts associated with the payer and selected payee.

(74) (54) UNIVERSAL OFFLINE CURRICULLUM DELIVERY AND COMPREHENSION ASSESSMENT SYSTEM WITH AUTOMATED MULTI-STAKEHOLDER REPORTING AND THRESHOLD-TRIGGERED GOVERNMENT ALERT MECHANISM (51) (57) A curriculum lesson identifier displayed on a classroom display device during offline lesson delivery is encoded as a QR code on a Physical Assessment Instrument distributed via pre-printed sheets or approved textbooks. The instrument comprises a constructed response section with traceable model answers and independent recall lines, and a selected response section, both mapped to curriculum learning outcomes. Completed instruments are captured via sheet-fed scanner, document camera, or mobile device and processed entirely on-device: the lesson identifier decoded, the student identified, marks detected, and performance bands classified without internet connectivity. Results distribute automatically to teacher, administrator, student, and parent portals upon synchronisation. A Threshold-Triggered Government Alert Mechanism transmits alerts to designated officials when student performance falls below a configurable threshold. Operable on battery or solar power across any curriculum framework worldwide.

(74) (54) OFFLINE CURRICULLUM -ALIGNED LESSON DELIVERY SYSTEM FOR GENERIC CLASSROOM DISPLAY WITH FIVE-DIRECTIONAL INPUT NAVIGATION

(51) (57) A dedicated application installed directly on a generic classroom display device, irrespective of operating system or platform, delivers structured curriculum-aligned lesson content stored entirely on the device without internet connectivity. A five-directional hardware input device comprising left, right, up, down, and confirm inputs is the sole and exclusive input mechanism for all navigation and system functions without touchscreen, keyboard, or mouse. A lesson picker interface displays available lessons organised by grade level, subject, difficulty tier, and curriculum sub-strand, navigable exclusively via the five-directional input. Lesson slides are displayed full-screen with a composite curriculum lesson identifier displayed as a persistent on-screen overlay throughout the entirety of delivery in a consistent screen position. The right input advances slides, the left returns, and the down input reveals locally stored diagrams and explainer videos. A sustained confirm input activates pre-stored interactive classroom activities operable without student devices or internet. An over-the-air mechanism downloads content updates when connectivity is available. The system is device-agnostic and curriculum-framework-agnostic

The system comprises a Registration Module for verifying identity information, a Credential Generation Module for creating the Secondary Identity Credential, a Secure Identity Database for associating the credential with the corresponding National Identification Number, a Verification Module for authenticating identity verification requests, and an Authorization Engine for approving or denying verification based on successful authentication of both credentials. In a preferred embodiment, the Secondary Identity Credential comprises an Identity Protection Number (IPN) created and controlled exclusively by the registered holder. The system further provides a secure credential recovery mechanism for replacing the credential following successful identity verification. The invention supplements existing National Identification infrastructure without replacing the National Identification Number, thereby strengthening protection against identity theft, impersonation, unauthorized access, and fraud

(54) Title: ALL - PURPOSE ANTIMICROBIAL CLEANSER

(57) The invention provides an all-purpose antimicrobial cleanser composition and a method for its manufacture, characterized by the integration of bioactive principles isolated from indigenous plants with a stabilized surfactant system. The composition exhibits significant antibacterial and antifungal properties, utilizing plant extracts traditionally employed for the management of ringworm and various skin conditions. The surfactant framework of the cleanser comprises ungerol, industrial salt, and CDC, and is further enhanced with SLES, liquid paraffin, a preservative, and a pearlescent concentrate to ensure optimal cleaning power, texture, and aesthetic appeal. A pH-stabilizing agent is incorporated to maintain a skin-neutral balance. The manufacturing process involves a specific sequence starting with the formation of a homogenous dough from ungerol and salt, followed by neutralization with sodium hydroxide to reach a pH of approximately 7. The process concludes with the infusion of plant-derived drug extracts, resulting in a stable, standardized hygiene solution that bridges traditional botanical knowledge with industrial chemical engineering

11.7 REMOVAL

Section 23 of the Trade Marks Act provides that registration of a trade mark in Kenya shall expire after a period of ten (10) years. The Act also provides that the proprietor of a registered trade mark may make an application for renewal of the trade mark upon completion of the prescribed Form TM 10 and payment of the prescribed renewal fee.

Rule 65 of the Trade Mark Rules provides that where no application for renewal of a registered trade mark is received upon expiry of the ten year period, the Registrar of Trade Marks shall notify the proprietor of this fact. Where no application for renewal of the registered trade mark is received within a period of sixty (60) days from the date of the notice for renewal by the Registrar, rule 67 of the Trade Mark Rules requires the Registrar of Trade Marks to publish this fact.

In accordance with the above provisions, the Registrar of Trade Marks hereby notifies the public that the proprietors of the trade marks indicated below were duly notified and that they did not file applications for renewal of their respective trade marks.

In accordance with the provisions of rules 67 and 68 of the Trade Mark Rules, the public is hereby notified as follows:

- (a) Where the proprietor of a registered trade mark makes an application for renewal of a mark that has been published herein and pays the renewal fee together with the additional prescribed late renewal fee within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be renewed and shall not be removed from the Register of Trade Marks;
- (b) Where no application for renewal of a trade mark published herein is received within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be forthwith removed from the Register of Trade Marks; and

Once the trade mark is removed from the Register of Trade Marks, the proprietor may thereafter make an application for renewal of the mark upon payment of the prescribed renewal fee together with the additional prescribed restoration fee. The trade mark shall then be restored to the Register of Trade Marks upon the Registrar of Trade Marks being satisfied that it is just to do so and upon imposing such conditions as the Registrar may deem fit.
